EMPEROR LEADING ARMY PERSONALLY

Selassie Lays Retreat to Aerial and Poison Gas
Attacks and Superior
Arms of the Invaders.

ADDIS ABABA, April 12.—(P)— Reserve manpower totaling 300,000
warriors have moved into defensive positions across northern Ethiopia under the personal direction of Emperor Haile Selassie, the government announced today.

An official spokesman described as propaganda Italian reports that the emperor is fleeing in disguise or considering abdicating.

A direct message from the emperor
showed he is safe, the spokesman asserted, adding that the morale of the nation still is high.

Ethiopian armies were forced to retreat in the north, he continued, because of a complete lack of defense
against aerial and "poison gas attacks"

But, contended the official, the Italians have now handicapped themselves
by a hasty extension of their lines with the rains daily becoming heavier. Difficulties in keeping open communications south of Makale and in the Lake Tana region are expected here
to supply the Ethiopians opportunities
to exhaust the invaders by harassing
their lines.

The emperor's action in calling out
reserve manpower indicated a change
in fighting tactics. Thus far he has not permitted large concentrations,
especially in the extreme north, where
the country is poorest.

The government said it was informed today of the Saad Bank, which is the expected objective of a new fascist
drive from the south, was bombed
from the air with mustard and other gases on Good Friday.

The situation on the Ogaden front
has not changed since November and
the Italians are still south of Saad
Bank and far from Jigiga and Harar.

The government asserted the international situation of the country is excellent with the food supply abundant

Lost More Than Week, Pilot, Bride Are Found

SEATTLE, April 12.—(P)—Pilot
Albert Almosino and his bride, missing more than a week, were found
alive tonight on the shore of Behm
canal by the coast guard cutter
Cyane, coast guard headquarters here
announced.

The Cyane radioed Mrs. Almosino
was in "weakened condition from ex-posure." The cutter said it was proceeding to Ketchikan with the Almosino-nes, whose wrecked airplane was found by an aviator today on the shore
of Prince of Wales bay on Behm canal.

No further details were given in the report.

Southern Cities Offer Co-operation To Atlanta for Dogwood Festival

Jacksonville and Miami Mayors and Chamber of Commerce Command Undertaking; City Schools Aiding in Preparations for Event Next Week.

Offers of co-operation are pouring into the Palmer building headquarters of the Atlanta Dogwood Festival Association as the southeast begins to sense the full importance of this new community celebration. Wires from many points in Georgia and surrounding states reflect the enthusiastic endorsement of the community officials, of chambers of commerce, and of many influential private citizens.

Typical of those from officialdom is a telegram received by Mrs. Robert L. Cooney, director of the 1936 festival, from Mayor John T. Also, mayor of Jacksonville, which reads:

"Having worked wholeheartedly with our garden clubs with the view of making Jacksonville the city beautiful, I am inspired to extend to you and the citizens of Atlanta felicitations and best wishes for a successful festival opening April 19, at which time you will pay tribute to the dogwood blossoms which grow so luxuriantly all over Georgia. As neighbors, we desire to co-operate with you for the Dogwood Festival.

CONFESION GIVEN IN SAFE ROBBERY F. D. R. TO DELIVER ADDRESS TONIGHT

Police Say "Red" Foster
and John Mitchell Admit Bond Office Theft.

Solution of one of Atlanta's most daring safe robberies came yesterday when two men confessed to entering the offices of Garner & Bailey, professional bondsmen at 181 Decatur street, next to the police station Thursday, and taking approximately $2,000 in cash and jewelry.

H. P. "Red" Foster, 31, of 550 Pulliam street, and John Mitchell, 44, of 216 Tudor street, admitted the burglary in the shadow of the police station late yesterday after two days of grilling, according to Detectives Leo Nishimura and J. J. Chester, who have worked night and day on the case.

Foster was arrested at his Pulliam street rooming house Thursday night following the robbery and Mitchell was taken off a Miami-bound bus at Tifton, Ga., the same night. Both had maintained their innocence until yesterday.

Buried Cash Recovered.

Acting on directions from Foster, detectives recovered $344 in cash which he had buried beneath a house at 339 Capitol avenue, and arrested T. E. Borah, of the same address, on charges of disorderly conduct and receiving stolen goods.

Two men were buried at $200 each in a sewer in a sewer on Wisconsin Avenue, 24, Knox has New Haven, 11. Both also claim the support of other delegates officially unstructured. Illinois will send 52 delegates to the Cleveland convention. Borah is the only republican entrant in the Nebraska primary, also scheduled Tuesday.

Fulton county police were "up against a stone wall" they said last night in the investigation into what they believe to be the murder of George R. Whitfield, of 129 Candler street, Decatur, whose body was found on Peachtree-Dunwoody road late Friday night.

A coroner's inquest into the death of Whitfield, who is a federal investigator of applications for the National Re-Employment Service, has been set for 8:30 o'clock this morning. Coroner Paul Donehue announced yesterday.

County Policeman Jack Carroll said yesterday that, although police are investigating many tips which may lead to a solution of the murder, "nothing new" had come to light which would shed light on the mystery.

FOUND IN GARAGE

An automobile containing 130 pints and 20 half-pints of whisky was seized by members of Atlanta's police raiding squad in the basement of a garage at 132 Tenet street, N. E., late Saturday night.

T. Nichols, operator of a cafe at 120 Tenet street, confessed to ownership of the whisky and was according to police. A charge of possession of whisky was placed against him. The seizure was made by Detectives Earl Harbin, Oscar H. Pendley and Bill Stallings.

L. R. Martin, of Winston-Salem, N. C., tobacco salesman, the victim, told detectives the youths requested him to drive to a Harold avenue address, where one of them lived.

When they reached a seedy spot, he was assaulted and robbed. In addition, the youths fled on foot.

GEORGIAN SELECTED AS MASTER TEACHER

Hugh Inglis, of Clarkesville, Chosen for Work in Vocational Agriculture.

Hugh A. Inglis, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Clarkesville High school, in competition with 2,000 teachers in 12 southern states, has been selected for the honor of master teacher of the south.

Announcement of the award was made yesterday by M. B. Mobley, assistant state director of vocational education.

Annually for the past nine years, it has been the custom in the south to select teachers doing the most outstanding work in vocational agriculture and confer on him the honor of master teacher.

This is the second time the honor has come to Georgia. In 1931, the title was bestowed on George I. Martin, who taught for 13 years at Sylvester and now is assistant state supervisor for agricultural education.

Inglis now is serving his eighth year in the Clarkesville school. At the end of his seventh year, he had enrolled 267 young men in his agricultural classes. Of these five have gone to college, four have taken up non-agricultural work in other communities and 258 are farming in the Clarkesville community.

At present he has 75 boys, all of whom are active members of the Future Farmers of America, enrolled in his agricultural classes. Each of these boys has outstanding home projects and is carrying on one or more activities to improve the home and farm.

For the past three summers, Inglis has taken his boys on educational tours through the principal farming regions of Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky.

In addition to his work with farm boys, Inglis has carried on a program of education for the adult farmers of his community. A total of 427 different farmers have enrolled in his night classes during the past seven years.

Most of the evening class instruction has been devoted to the live-at-home program and soil improvement problems. As an outgrowth of this program, Mobley said, one of the largest and most equipped canning plants in the state has been erected at Clarkesville and is under the supervision of Inglis.

During 1935, Mobley said, "more than 90,000 cans of meats, fruits and vegetables were put up by farmers in his community for home consumption."

Inglis also has served as a teacher in his Sunday school for a number of years and has been an active leader of Boy Scouts in northeast Georgia.

SECOND TRY SET TODAY TO FORM LASH JURY

Tampa Kidnap Case Moved to Bartow After Prejudice Charge.

BARTOW, Fla., April 12.—(AP)—For the second time the state of Florida tomorrow makes an effort to pick a six-man jury to try the first of the Tampa flogging cases growing out of mob violence against a trio of unemployed organizers and political workers.

The trial was moved here from Tampa when attorneys for 11 men accused of the crime won their demand that failure to select a six-man jury from a venire of 108 Hillsborough county citizens proved the contention that a fair and impartial trial was impossible in the city and county where Joseph Shoemaker was found guilty and Sam Rogers and E. P. Poulton were only partially innocent.

This time, however, seven of the 11 defendants go on trial. Three were called before the bar at the unfinished trial in Tampa. The seven are charged with kidnapping Poulton. Former Police Chief R. G. Tittsworth, of Tampa, is charged with being an accessory after the fact while the six others are charged as actual kidnappers. They are C. A. Brown, John P. Bridges, J. W. Carlisle, Sam E. Crosby, F. W. Switzer and Robert Chappel.

Brown, Bridges and Carlisle were the three called to trial at Tampa. All six are former Tampa policemen and special officers. Tittsworth is charged with knowing of their guilt and protecting them by an official statement exonerating them of any connection with the crimes.

HIRSCH WILL DISCUSS JEWISH WELFARE FUND

Purposes of the Jewish Welfare Fund and immediate plans for the fund campaign will be discussed by Harold Hirsch, prominent Atlanta attorney and chairman of the welfare fund drive, at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at Congregation Ahavath Achim.

Foreign conditions as related to the Jewish situation in Germany and eastern Europe will also be reviewed by Hirsch, according to Oscar Gerhson, president of the congregation.

PROBATION GROUP WILL MEET TODAY

Sessions Precede Meeting of Georgia Conference on Social Work.

Problems of crime and recreational activities will be the chief topics of discussion at meetings of the Probation Officers' Association and a special group work institute, to be held in the Atlanta hotel.

The meetings will be held prior to the annual Georgia conference on social work, which will open at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. The theme is "Responsibility for a Social Security Program in Georgia," as the general theme.

R. A. Chappell, chief probation officer of the United States district court for the northern district of Georgia, will be principal speaker at the probation group's session, and Prof. Clara Anne Kaiser, of the New School of Social Work, will lead the discussions of the group work institute.

Professor E. C. Lindemann, of the New York School of Social Work, will address the opening meeting of the social work conference and Fred K. Hoeber, of Chicago, director of the American Public Welfare Association, will be principal speaker Wednesday night.

Joint sessions with the American Association of Social Workers and the Southern Sociological Society will be held Thursday. The conference will continue until Friday.

HOWARD TO SPEAK AT DECATUR DINNER

Attorney Will Address Jefferson Day Fete at Candler Hotel Tonight.

A Jefferson Day dinner, sponsored by democrats of Decatur, will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the Candler hotel.

William Schley Howard, Atlanta attorney, will speak on "The Political Situation in Georgia." J. A. McCullough, recently appointed chairman of a committee to organize a Roosevelt club in DeKalb county, will speak on formation of the club, and Scott Candler, mayor of Decatur, will discuss the "Importance of a Presidential Primary."

Home George is chairman of the arrangements committee.

Charles D. McKinney is general chairman of the dinner committee.

PAPER MAKING MOVING SOUTH

Steps toward the use of southern
loblolly pine in making white print
paper are revealed by the Manufacturers Record in the report that
"new investments in paper plant
facilities in the south, covering projects recently completed, under way or scheduled, total more than $13,000,000."

The latest general contract for construction to be awarded is that of the Kraft pulp and paper mill for

the Crossett Lumber Company at Crossett, Ark., estimated to involve an investment of $4,000,000. It is stated that the Container Corporation of America has picked a site
at Fernandina, Fla., and that negotiations are now under way toward
the establishment of two new major
paper plants along the Atlantic seaboard.

A contract has recently been let
for a pulp mill to be established at Houston, Texas; construction is being rushed on the $4,000,000 paper
and bag mill for the Union Bag & Paper Company of New York city,
at Savannah, Ga., and an expansion
program involving the outlay of $500,000 is being completed at the John H. Head Company's Lynchburg, Va., plant for the production
of liner board.

Gradually the paper industry is increasing from Maryland to Texas,
and southern publishers are seeking to promote establishment of one or more plants for making newsprint
from southern pine. In this connection Dr. Charles H. Herty, of Savannah, who perfected the process
for the manufacture of paper from southern pine trees, said that an excellent grade of newsprint had been made from five-year-old pines,
the youngest ever used for that purpose.

The five-year-old trees used in the experiment were grown by Marion Renfroe in alternate rows
with corn on his farm in Brooks
county, near Quitman, Ga. "His system of planting his corn between
the trees to an exceptional degree,"

Dr. Herty says. In short, he produced corn to pay his expenses
while his pine trees were coming to an early maturity, the cultivation
they received making them grow
more rapidly than the same sort of trees growing wild.

In addition to the extensive acre-
ages being acquired by the respective companies for insuring a steady
supply of raw materials, purchases
will be made from owners of nearby timber lands. This opens the way to southern farmers to utilize
land that the federal government
desires to remove from cotton and feed crops.

In time large newsprint mills will be built in the south, and will consume immense quantities of raw material. As it takes at least five years to grow pine trees to the requisite size, progressive farmers
who begin now to take advantage
of this new cash crop will be fortunate, and years ahead of those who wait until the market is fully developed.

MORE WATERFOWL REFUGES

The More Game Birds in America Foundation calls attention to the fact that the country's wild ducks
now on nuptial flights northward
after the most disastrous winter to wild life in years, have many new
and unique duck-saving havens
awaiting them, and takes occasion
to urge that these bird havens be largely increased in number.

In presenting a plan to reduce
winter starvation among wild fowl
and summer resting and nesting
places, under which every park lake
and rural water area in every county
in the country would be linked in a nation-wide system of voluntarily

established waterfowl refuges, the foundation comments:

Starvation among wild life in sections of some northern states has been so serious nature lovers should prepare now to prevent its recurrence.
Newspapers, by encouraging distribution
of grain the past winter, probably saved more birds than any other agency. Over 100 airplanes distributed manna for widely-scattered flocks.
In Wisconsin alone establishment of 40,000 feeding stations was recorded.
However, if each community had previously established a local refuge
which waterfowl habitually frequented,
providing succor for wild ducks
would have been comparatively simple.
When natural feeding grounds become
ice-bound practically all waterfowl
remaining in a locality will congregate
on the refuge area. Emergency feeding can then be easily accomplished. In southern and Pacific coast states these refuges also serve
as wintering resorts and in the north
as summer nesting places.

Within a comparatively short period 237 local refuges in 44 states have been provided by sportsmen, bird
study, Boy Scout, school, rural and other organizations. To coordinate this effort and facilitate the distribution of information on how to start a refuge, the More Game Birds in America organization announces that a national waterfowl
contest will be conducted during the coming summer. The headquarters of the foundation is at 500
Fifth avenue, New York city, and all organizations having the preservation of American wild life as an objective should co-operate to the fullest extent toward the successful completion of the plan to increase
the summer and winter refuges for game birds.

HIGH-GRADE CATTLE

A milestone in the forward march
of the beef cattle industry in Georgia
was passed at the recent fat
cattle show held in Savannah, when an Angus steer, raised by Colonel E. B. Weatherly, of Cochran, was declared grand champion of the show, the animal being the first
steer ever bred, raised and finished
in Georgia to grade prime.

To grade prime means the animal
must be purebred, of good beef conformation, and must be fed for not less than nine months on a ration of not less than 60 per cent grain.
This steer met all those requirements.

Winning the grand championship
at the annual international fat stock
show in Chicago is an honor hotly
contested by foremost beef cattlemen of the country, and it would
now appear that Georgia's beef cattle industry has progressed to the point where entries from this state will be contesting at Chicago with the best beef animals of the country for first place.

It will also mean that at future
stock shows in Georgia Colonel Weatherly will have sharp competition,
for there are many breeders of purebred beef cattle in Georgia
who will compete for the prize he won at the Savannah show—which competition will lead on to further improvement in Georgia beef cattle.

But those who compete with Colonel Weatherly will have "to be up and doing." He is a retired lawyer of high repute and operates a 4,000-acre farm near Cochran devoted exclusively to the raising of purebred and grade livestock—Angus
cattle, Hampshire hogs and sheep.
In a survey conducted by the Southeastern Economic Council, his Black Angus farm was adjudged
the best beef cattle farm in Georgia,
and second in eight southeastern states.

Carrying around 300 head of Angus cattle, 250 of them registered, the Cochran cattleman disclosed that diagnosticians found his entire livestock free of contagious abortion and tuberculosis.

By reason of his prominence in the industry in the southeast he was chosen representative for this section
in the cattle division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, composed of 25 representative
cattlemen of the United States, and nationally chosen president of the national cattle committee.

It is not expected that all Georgia
farmers can attain the position
held by Colonel Weatherly in the beef cattle industry, but practically every farmer can gradually grow
into the production of a few head
of high-grade beef cattle. It costs
nothing to pander to the appetite
of the small native scrub, and when it comes time to market, the high-grade animal will bring a good price while the scrub is a drug on the market.

What the world really needs is a ray that will make foreign statesmen
invisible. And, better still, inaudible.

The next thing we know some dictator will be passing a law that any rainbow glowing over his land
must be in the national colors.

Just because a girl wears one of these hats shaped like a pancake
is no sign she knows how to try them. Perhaps she just doesn't know any better.

Statistics show that there are 7,000,000 dogs in the United States
and last night, when we tried to get a snooze, they were all baying for the same moon.

Flaming Churches

In Spain.

ZURICH, Switzerland.—In 1934 the
reaction in Spain made a comeback
and incarcerated 40,000 individuals,
after drowning the revolt of the Asturian miners and peasants in blood.
The populations of whole villages
were driven into churches and the churches set on fire. A French newspaperman who had taken a photo of a Moorish soldier carrying the severed heads of four or five miners in
his belt, was assassinated in prison.
I myself saw the bodies of bayoneted
little children lying in the streets.
And I, for one, am not surprised that the people are taking revenge now that the pendulum has swung back and the rebellion is still on, more. They turned to the churches and the asturians because the church showed itself the political ally of the reaction
in those other days of blood. The revenge, however, is hitherto not a hundredth time as bloody as the repre-
sion of 1934 was. But there is no telling what may happen next. The central yahoo is certainly in the hearts of the men.

Projects.

On the immediate program stands
a visit to Spain, but not before the French elections are held, for they are the most violent, most
and most tempestuous. Herr Hitler's move in the Rhineland has changed a lot in Europe and may change more.
If the Germans start to build a front in, as they certainly will, for
who is there to say them no, France
will be cut off from her eastern allies. Those
will scramble to get into the good graces of Germany, so as not to be crushed by the German colossus, and Germany's condition will be an all-around aggressive alliance against Russia. That is the general drift of European affairs. I am not going further in my predictions, for there is a slip between the cup and
the lip, also in these matters of politics.

The Red Army.

While speaking on the ratification
of the Franco-Russian pact in the chamber of deputies in Paris, Monsieur Pierre Cot, former minister of air, said he had attended the military maneuvers in Russia this summer and had seen one thing which had struck him particularly: Russian "giant"
planes had transferred a whole division of troops with machine guns, light artillery and tanks by air
and dropped them behind the "enemy"
lines in two hours. The performance is almost incredible. Still, Hitler mentioned it also in a speech to which I
listened the other night, via the radio,
course. Before coming to America
next winter to hope to visit the U.S.
I once mentioned my predictions
to the red army, and have no doubt in my mind that it is a very efficient and very colossal force, but
how strong is the pro-government sentiment in that army? There is the whole question.

In ten years' time, I am sure, as soon as the army of Russia will be invincible,
because by that time a generation will have grown up in Russia which did not know Joseph, so to speak. I mean a generation wholly imbued with the ideology of the soviets. The thing to find out is how far has this ideology extended. The question is whether there is a real antagonism between the two fronts. The answer is that there is not, but there is a real antagonism between the two fronts.

STOPPES Able Senator Jimmy Byrnes is understood to be in the
market for ear-stoppes to afford himself the same
of relief that Senator Glass gets from his ear stopples. His problem is not anti-noise, but anti-quiet.

Senate leaders successfully side-tracked the Davis resolution calling for a senate inquiry into WPA politics, by sending it to Byrnes' committee on audit and control. Byrnes is supposed to have sought the counsel of a wise wit who sits near him, asking what should be done about the resolution. The response was: "Lose it."

Apparently the only way Mr. Byrnes could conceive offhand was to avoid getting a quorum of his committee together. Each day three good members of his committee appear in the senate, but he declines to do so members. However, it is getting more difficult each day. Senator Davis keeps howling for action on his resolution and the quorum keeps re-appearing, declining to go off and die, or even play golf.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

BY PAUL MALLON.

CAT UNBAGGED

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The wise New Dealers make a business of not knowing much about their spending plans. Congressional inquisitors have not been able to get much out of Mr. Hopkins on that subject.

The impression has been created that the federal handout next year will total $4,500,000,000, as requested by the President, plus whatever is left over from this year, and no one ever knows how much is going to be left over.

That is, no one ever admitted knowing until Mr. Dan Bell, the non-political budget director, testified at a house tax hearing recently. He year is $3,382,000,000 (not the amount allocated, mind you, but the amount which will be spent.)

The left-over, he said, would be exactly $1,128,000,000, on the basis of figures compiled as late as March 20.

If you will add this left-over to the new relief fund, you will have

President Roosevelt's secret—namely that the relief sock under his bed for the year beginning July 1 will contain about $2,628,000,000.

BULGE Mr. Bell was giving the status of the last relief fund of $4,800,000,000. He said it was carried on the books at $4,563,000,000 because some of it included reappropriations from the previous year. It would be incorrect to deduce from his figures that relief expenditures would be $754,000,000 less next year than this year, as the figures seem to indicate. If you count in the bonus, the extra budgetary appropriations being made in congress, and the relief appropriations switched from the emergency budget into the regular budget for next year, Mr. Roosevelt's total spending fund will be much larger than this year. In other words, Mr. Roosevelt can spend considerably more money next year instead of less, as generally supposed.

SPEED Swiftest legislative stepper in congress is shrewd Senator Smith. And the swiftest step he ever made was on the recent cotton loan legislation.

Mr. Smith was living up to his nickname of "Cotton Ed" by championing legislation requiring the commodity credit corporation to market 20,000 to 25,000 bales of its cotton holdings each week. Most of the experts agreed it was a sour idea. They wondered what it would do to the cotton market.

The well-known Mr. Oscar Johnson, AAA cotton expert, put his head together with the American Cotton Co-operative Association expert and worked out a substitute plan, in private. They agreed to have the government take a 2 1/2-cent loss on its cotton loans by unloading the cotton upon certificate holders who would market it piecemeal.

The plan was to have been announced at 3 p.m., but Smith jumped the gun and introduced legislation embodying the plan as a substitute for his own several hours earlier.

Some of his senatorial friends were still championing his original bill at his committee hearing next day, not knowing that he had abandoned his old horse and was riding another in an opposite direction.

LOBBY DIPLOMATS The hatred which congressmen have been breathing at lobbyists lately in public statements and speeches apparently does not apply to all lobbyists.

A small veterans' organization, which boasted the soldier bonus, is now delivering a handsome citation to senators and representatives who voted for it. The citation looks like a diploma. At the top is the name of the congressman, written out in full in an impressive way. The body of the document received by one congressman stated that he had been awarded the citation for "outstanding service" in the fight for the soldiers' bonus.

The congressmen are very proud of these citations.

As has been said before, a lobbyist is a public benefactor if you happen to be on his side. He is a despicable crook if you happen to be on his side.

STOPPES Able Senator Jimmy Byrnes is understood to be in the

market for ear-stoppes to afford himself the same

FINAL STORM SURVEY REVEALS 466 KILLED

3,400 Injured, 2,169 Homes Razed and 1,259 Badly Damaged.

By the Associated Press. Tornadoes in Georgia, Mississippi, and North Carolina the last two weeks have killed 466 persons and injured more than 3,400.

A Red Cross survey completed yesterday showed 2,169 homes destroyed and 1,259 badly damaged. None of the figures included losses in scattered areas.

In southeastern flood areas now under Red Cross relief, deaths were listed at 124, plus 2,942 with many thousands of families affected.

The Gainesville death toll was set at 202 and 934 injured. Of those killed 80 were heads of families, leaving many widows and orphans. The report said 800 homes were demolished and 900 damaged in this area, with more than 500 families registered for assistance.

In the Tupelo-Boonesville area the report said 214 were killed, 54 injured seriously and incapacitated for weeks. In Mississippi 897 homes were demolished, and 1,500 families affected directly by the storm.

Gainesville, Ga., reported 14 dead and 190 injured.

The Cordele death list was 23 with 427 houses destroyed, 139 badly damaged. Cordele families receiving relief numbered 804.

LIQUOR NETS FLORIDA $2,266,693 IN REVENUE

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 12.—(AP)—The State Beverage Department reported today that for the seven months period, ending January 31, it collected taxes of 80 cents a gallon on 1,441,545 gallons of liquor in Florida.

During the same period, taxes were paid on 45,436,955 bottles of beer, and on 917,692 gallons of draft beer and wine.

Liquor became legal, under repeal of the state prohibition, when the 1935 legislature's liquor control law went into effect last June 26.

Beverage Department receipts up to April 1 were $2,266,693.95, and $247,000 was turned over to the controller's office to be used in financing governmental operations.

Liquor revenue stamps accounted for 223,173.76 of the total, while gallons tax on beer and wine brought in $555,266.76. Liquor, beer and wine licenses $72,035.51, and $684 came from sale of special tags for trucks used in transporting liquor and wine.

SCOTT ANNOUNCES. RALEIGH, N. C., April 12.—(AP)—W. Kerr Scott, of Alamance county a former master of the state grange, today announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for commissioner of agriculture.

Motorists Are Praised For Gainesville Conduct

Adjutant General Lindley W. Camp last night praised the conduct of the thousands of motorists who traveled to Gainesville yesterday. All persons wanting to view the ruins of the city were urged to make the trip this week.

"There was a steady stream of cars, and I've never seen a more orderly procession," said General Camp.

Passes were given those who had business in Gainesville and others were let into the city. There was no traffic jam and the drivers were given the right of way.

Reports made to Milner from other Georgia cities showed that many have exceeded their quotas to considerable extent.

Additional Contributions.

Additional funds for relief of the Gainesville storm sufferers sent yesterday to the Red Cross headquarters here or already collected and ready for forwarding include a third check from Griffin for $1,000, boosting that city's contributions to $4,500; town of Union, Ga., $100; Red Cross Service employees, Atlanta, $33.25 in addition to previous donations; employees of White Provision Company, $205.31; city of Atlanta employees, $310, in addition to previous contributions; Georgia Baptist hospital employees, $65.50; Atlanta Linen Supply Company, $95.30; Moultrie, $2,100; Americus, $713.62, in addition to previous donations.

EASTER EGGS Plentiful.

Easter eggs were plentiful in Gainesville, along with the rest of the nation, due partly to the generous donation of $81 individual boxes by a group of Atlanta firms.

The plan, conceived by Mrs. E. J. Avery, wife of the chief clerk of the Stone Baking Company, was made possible by the co-operation of the following firms:

Toney Produce Company, Piedmont Feed & Grocery Company, Warren Produce Company, Swift & Company, Hicks Produce Company, Tenenbaum Brothers, Sugarman-Hirsch Company, Block Candy Company, and the Durex Manufacturing Company. Preparation and boxing was done at the Stone Baking Company, ham, or Rome.

WITNESS MURKIN TRIAL

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 12.—(AP)—The First Baptist church here will be the scene of the trial of Marcus C. Powell for wife-murder.

Services were held for national guardsmen on duty here. The troops assembled in the courthouse to hear an Easter message from Captain James N. Faulkner, chaplain of the 105th division engineers, and pastor of First Christian church at Jackson.

United Methodists at the theater brought together congregations of the First Methodist, First Presbyterian, Calvary Baptist and All Saints' Episcopal churches—all without a sanctuary.

The First Baptist membership held separate services at another, while First Christian, Second Baptist and Central Methodist services were conducted as usual in the respective buildings, none seriously damaged by the man-killing winds.

Reports made to Milner from other Georgia cities showed that many have exceeded their quotas to considerable extent.

Additional Contributions.

Additional funds for relief of the Gainesville storm sufferers sent yesterday to the Red Cross headquarters here or already collected and ready for forwarding include a third check from Griffin for $1,000, boosting that city's contributions to $4,500; town of Union, Ga., $100; Red Cross Service employees, Atlanta, $33.25 in addition to previous donations; employees of White Provision Company, $205.31; city of Atlanta employees, $310, in addition to previous contributions; Georgia Baptist hospital employees, $65.50; Atlanta Linen Supply Company, $95.30; Moultrie, $2,100; Americus, $713.62, in addition to previous donations.

EASTER EGGS Plentiful.

Easter eggs were plentiful in Gainesville, along with the rest of the nation, due partly to the generous donation of $81 individual boxes by a group of Atlanta firms.

The plan, conceived by Mrs. E. J. Avery, wife of the chief clerk of the Stone Baking Company, was made possible by the co-operation of the following firms:

Toney Produce Company, Piedmont Feed & Grocery Company, Warren Produce Company, Swift & Company, Hicks Produce Company, Tenenbaum Brothers, Sugarman-Hirsch Company, Block Candy Company, and the Durex Manufacturing Company. Preparation and boxing was done at the Stone Baking Company, ham, or Rome.

WITNESS MURKIN TRIAL

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 12.—(AP)—The First Baptist church here will be the scene of the trial of Marcus C. Powell for wife-murder.

Services were held for national guardsmen on duty here. The troops assembled in the courthouse to hear an Easter message from Captain James N. Faulkner, chaplain of the 105th division engineers, and pastor of First Christian church at Jackson.

United Methodists at the theater brought together congregations of the First Methodist, First Presbyterian, Calvary Baptist and All Saints' Episcopal churches—all without a sanctuary.

The First Baptist membership held separate services at another, while First Christian, Second Baptist and Central Methodist services were conducted as usual in the respective buildings, none seriously damaged by the man-killing winds.

GRAND JURY SEEKS CONDON'S TESTIMONY

TRENTON, N. J., April 12.—(AP)—Alayne M. Freeman, foreman of the Mercer county grand jury investigating charges the Paul Wendel kidnapped the Lindbergh baby, said tonight he had summoned Dr. John F. (Jesse) Condon to appear before the jury Wednesday morning.

Freeman said he had sent the following telegram to Dr. Condon tonight:

"We request your appearance before the Mercer county grand jury Wednesday, April 15, in connection with the Lindbergh case. Your expenses will be paid."

Freeman said he had also summoned Mahlon B. Foster, of Wilmington, Del., to appear Tuesday. The grand jury foreman said Foster would compare the handwriting of Wendel with samples of the ransom note left in the Lindbergh baby's nursery room the night of March 1, 1932.

Englishwoman Disrobes Before Crowded Church

LONDON, April 13.—(Monday) (P)—The Daily Mail said today an amazing scene occurred during an Easter service yesterday at St. Paul's cathedral, when a young woman, flinging off her cloak, stood unclothed before the congregation.

The woman—a brunet about 25 years old—stepped from her pew as the choir was leading the chancel, the newspaper stated, and walked more than 50 yards to the altar steps, where, dropping the cloak and sinking slowly to her knees, with arms outstretched in a gesture of supplication.

About 1,000 Easter night worshippers watched, stunned, as officials rushed her to one side, draped the cloak over her shoulders and hurried her into the vestry, the Daily Mail reported.

Fairyland Pageant for Festival To Be Given on Elaborate Scale

The Dogwood Festival Fairyland Pageant, which will be presented at Great Smoky Mountains on Saturday and Tuesday nights to the general public, promises to be entirely different than any pageant ever presented in Atlanta. Presented on an elaborate castle and garden stage setting, the cast of nearly 1,000 participants, including 200 children, will present in a vivid picture of Mother Goose tales and the story of Cinderella are presented to the audience.

Under the direction of Pageant Master Russell L. Rowland and Associate Director J. Emerson Stiles, rehearsals are being held each afternoon and night at the Capital City Club, the End Woman's Club. A concert band, under the direction of Herman Steinchen, will furnish the musical accompaniment for the pageant performances. Although most of the action of the pageant is pantomime, an amplifying system will be installed so that even in the audience will plainly hear the quiet addresses of the scene and the general narration which is presented during the progress of the various scenes.

W. E. Mitchell, general chairman of the pageant, announced that no expense is being spared in making "Sunrise" the most elaborate production ever presented in Atlanta. B. W. St. Clair is chairman of the grounds committee and will have charge of the construction of the elaborate stage setting. J. F. Pennington, as electrical chairman, has been assigned the work of supervising the installation of special flood-lighting effects. Foster St. George, as property chairman, is in charge of securing the many unique articles used by the story-book characters in presenting their scenes.

FAIR, WARM WEATHER PREDICTED FOR TODAY

Generally fair and somewhat warmer is the weather prospect for Atlanta today, according to the forecast issued at the weather airport weather bureau last night.

The temperature will start from 48 degrees in the morning.

The mercury yesterday ranged between 48 degrees in the early morning to 69 degrees, recorded at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The filling of a suit by his mother-in-law to annul the marriage was reported.

The Odyssey of Pombo, whose love for the beautiful Senorita Elena de Rivero led him to brave the dangers of a South Atlantic flight to Mexico, brought him world acclaim as the epitome of the modernized romance.

Ardor winged his suit and finally Elena's heart. Despite her mother's vigorous objections, she left a convention school to wed Pombo in a civil ceremony here February 11 and in a church wedding two days later.

After the short honeymoon the couple took up housekeeping near Madrid. Although the bride's mother, Dona Concepcion Corral de Rivero, was never fully reconciled to the marriage, the couple hoped their happiness eventually would win her blessing.

But the newspaper Ahora said today she had complained for an hour of all the ceremonial grounds of legal technicalities. She contends her signature is necessary on the marriage license because her daughter, 18, is a minor.

The Pombos are now on a vacation in Guatemala.

ATLANTA'S CHURCHES ARE FILLED ON EASTER

the spirit of the day, early in the morning clearing from the skies the light clouds which had been in evidence through the night. The day dawned clear and sparkling. It was such a day as left milady no doubts as to whether she should chance inauspicious rains with her finest finery.

Milady made the best of it. She revealed the truth of the claim made by Atlanta merchants—that this Easter buying season was the finest and most active the city has enjoyed in a number of years.

All of the city's Christian churches were filled to capacity at all services. The Gloria Dei Methodist church celebrated its 100th anniversary. Special music was presented at All Saints Episcopal church, Peachtree Christian church, the Pro-Cathedral of St. Philip, Grant Park Methodist, St. Luke's Episcopal, St. Mark Methodist, Druid Hills Methodist, First Methodist, Tabernacle, Central Methodist, Trinity Methodist, Second Ponce de Leon church, Oakhurst Presbyterian, Inman Park Methodist, Central Methodist, Park Avenue Baptist, Capitol View Methodist, Peachtree Road Methodist, Sweet Street Methodist, First Christian, St. John's Evangelical, Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Covenant Presbyterian, Capitol View Baptist, Inman Park Baptist, Longley Avenue Christian, Collins Memorial church, Church of the Epiphany, First Presbyterian, Calvary Presbyterian, Epworth Methodist, Inman Park Baptist, Grace Evangelical, Lutherian, Center Street Methodist, Georgia Avenue Presbyterian, Calvary

Methodist, and Central Baptist church.

Numerous other organizations also staged special Easter day musical programs.

Few Accidents Reported

Despite the heavy traffic of the day there were relatively few automobile accidents. Four were reported up to a late hour last night.

"Stumpy" Thomason, former Georgia Tech football star, was involved in one of these, police reported, shortly after midnight Saturday.

Police said that when he was driving in collision with another automobile, he was driving at 45 miles an hour in a machine driven by W. E. Goodwin, 46, and in which car W. H. Goodwin, 81, was riding. The elder Goodwin was injured slightly. Both drivers were charged with reckless driving and released.

At 2 o'clock in the morning Oscar Lingo, of 530 Woodward avenue, was admitted to Grady hospital suffering multiple fractures of the left arm, a dislocation of the left shoulder and lacerations. He was brought to the hospital by a man who gave his name as M. H. Brown, of Austell.

Brown said that he had stopped Lingo up on the Bankhead highway, two miles this side of Austell. A car driven apparently by Lingo and a machine driven by an unidentified negro, were charged to have crashed head-on, Brown reported.

At 4:30 o'clock in the morning a car driven, according to police, by W. M. Burge, of 101 Lyndale Avenue, N. W., was occupied by his 16-year-old daughter, Miss Elsie Burge, who who gave the name of Ray.

Miss Burge was injured slightly and was treated at Grady hospital and dismissed.

Walter L. Wood, 23, of 463 Boulevard, S. E., was treated at Grady hospital yesterday morning for a fracture of the right collarbone which he told attaches he had suffered in a motorcycle accident. He was sent home after treatment.

It was a rallying symbol for the Oxford movement in Denmark.

Imposing religious services were held in the United States.

The nation followed President and Mrs. Roosevelt to church and then to the style parade. The first lady wore a new homespun suit of skyblue, and a purple hat.

Fog and drizzling rain took the perkiness out of flowers and finery in New York.

Glorious sunshine bathed Chicago. Michigan boulevard was crowded with color. Soldier field was jammed for the traditional sunrise service.

The day was observed on all ships, at naval stations and in the army. At Fort Riley, reservation near Junction City, Kan., the geographical center of the country, 4,000 joined in celebration.

Ter thousand voices greeted Easter's arrival in the Garden of the Gods at Colorado Springs, Col.

The sun came up to find 25,000 worshippers waiting in the Hollywood bowl, Calif. Two hundred children formed a living white cross at Los Angeles.

In Alaska, Matanuska colonists gathered at Palmer to sing and pray amid the scent of new-hewn timber in the community gymnasium.

40,000 PERSONS ATTEND MORAVIAN EASTER SERVICES

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., April 12.—(UPI)—An estimated 40,000 attended today services at 12 Moravian sunrise services held Bishop J. Kenneth Pfahl after the centenary proclamation: "The Lord is risen."

Chief Usher Ernest Pfahl said the throng was the largest in the 169-year history of the service here.

Preliminaries to the dawn service began with the hours after midnight when bands, numbering more than 300 musicians, played antiphonally the old German songs.

Stained glass windows of the Moravian chapel formed a backdrop for Bishop Pfahl of the southern Moravian province, as the service opened just before dawn.

"This I verily believe."

"Behold the Son of God—was crucified, died and buried—rose again from the dead," the bishop said.

Then, as bands played Bishop Pfahl led the march past in a military style followed, marching eight abreast, to "God's acre," where 2,500 Moravian dead lie about 400 yards from the church.

Here the thousands sang "Nearer My God to Thee," after which the bishop closed the service with:

"Glory to Him who is the resurrection and the life!"

Miami Mayor.

A. D. H. Fossey, as mayor of Miami, sent official felicitations as follows:

"Please accept the sincere good wishes of the city of Miami for the unbounded success of the Dogwood Festival opening April 19."

Similar co-operation is forthcoming from Atlanta's own civic circles, with the service clubs and public officials following the lead of Atlanta's James L. Key who has been active since the inception of the festival plan. Typical of these is a letter from Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, whose organization, together with those of Fulton county, DeKalb county and the Decatur school system, have developed tremendous interest in the Dogwood Festival poster contest. Mr. Sutton writes:

"The Atlanta public schools are delighted to co-operate with every civic endeavor which our city undertakes. Due to the fact that the dates of the Dogwood Festival are the same as the dates of the closing of school year, the Atlanta schools, it has not been possible to do all that we should like to do in connection with the Dogwood Festival. However, for more than 10 years the superintendent of schools and Miss Rainwater, who is in charge of elementary science, have been working on a planting Dogwood trees. During this time, we have planted more than 10,000 dogwood trees within the city of Atlanta. Our schools are giving opportunity to all the students who wish to take a part in the festival to have the chance to practice and to co-operate with all agencies in helping to make the festival a great success."

PART IN FESTIVAL MAPPED BY CLUBS

Garden Groups Will Hear Marshal Explain Parade Procedure Today.

Plans for the part to be played in the annual Dogwood Festival next week by the garden clubs of Atlanta will be discussed at a meeting of all garden clubs at 11 o'clock this morning at the Garden Center.

Major Leland S. Hobbs of Fort McPherson, who will be marshal for the state parade Monday, will have floats to be released for the line of march. A chart of plans for the parade is being prepared by Major Hobbs and will be published next Sunday.

Mr. Thomas Pitts will be presented with the Peachtree achievement medal for her work in beautifying and maintaining the park of Cascade pond. The Lullwater park will be presented by Mrs. Willard McBurney of the Rose Garden Club.

Mrs. Donald Hastings, recently elected president of the Garden Club of Georgia, will be guest of honor at the meeting.

3 KILLED, 1 INJURED WHEN PLANES COLLIDE

HUEBONS AIRES, April 12.—(UPI)—Three persons were killed and one seriously injured today when two airplanes collided over Moron airport.

The accident occurred when one plane, about to land, crashed into a machine piloted by Guillermo Udaondo, 30, a radio and television specialist. Udaondo and his companion and an unidentified person in the other plane were killed, the airport reported.

Chief No Good Canoe Tells Driver No Can Do

NEW YORK, April 12.—(AP)—His long hair tied in braids and fastened with red ribbons, Frank Canoe, who said he was an Iroquois Indian, was held in custody today on a charge of failing to pay a taxicab bill.

"What's your name?" asked Magistrate Thomas A. Aurelio.

"Chief No Good Canoe," was the response.

"What do you mean, no good?"

"No good when I drink," the Indian replied.

Patrolman Henry O'Connor, who arrested him, paid his $1.30 bill and sentence was suspended.

Comments of general interest submitted by readers are welcome in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield care The Atlanta Constitution.

The way of the problem column editor is hard. When she publishes a letter from an abused wife and whacks the husband, the men howl at her: "What are they? They are no decent men!" When she advises the wife for doing to her husband's pride, the women scold her: "Don't you think you are helping men to be more conceited, self-centered and disgusting than ever?" One would think that the majority of two sexes were involved in a war and that nothing less than a strict neutrality on the part of the onlookers was satisfactory to either sex.

How is this for hot indignation?

"I am another of the billion pants-wearing wives and I don't see any sense in our trying to make our husbands think they are wearing the pants. We are the ones who pay the bills. We pants-wearers can't love or respect men who sit in their easy chairs and let us support them. Why should we pretend that we do? Of course both young and old men are selfish but men of today are getting worse. So many boys of this generation are supporting or helping their mothers and worthless fathers that they are being cut out of marrying the girls they love. I come in contact with a great number of men who are perfectly satisfied to loaf and let women take care of them; not only husbands but unmarried men are taking money from womenfolk even from their girlfriends. The latter have the excuse that girls have gone to the polls, and to the offices and taken their means of livelihood. But this is not excuse for the older generation of husbands who enjoy solid comfort, eat good food, take time off to how the bills will be paid. I don't agree with you that children ought to be taught to respect fathers of this sort. Give the children credit for intelligence; they can see their fathers' faults without having mothers point to them. Take note, Miss Chatfield, look into the men to today. They are too indifferent to apply for work, too lazy to hold jobs when they are thrown to them, yet they rave about women invading their domain. Where is their pride? Where is their manly strength? They are willing to sit in their easy chairs, talk about bad breaks and let their wives be the breadwinners."

There have always been worthless men who did not feature work, men who got married and had families without taking responsibility for them and the new fashion of 50-50 marriages has given these grand alibis, making increases their number perceptibly. Yet the fact is that for every lazy loaf of a husband there are hundreds who work hard supporting their families to the best of their ability and hold their heads up high and handsome. It is perfectly natural for the wife of a loafer to believe that there is no such thing as a prideful, self-respecting man. And, if in addition to her own experience, she has one neighbor or friend whose experience matches her, no amount of argument can convince her that the race of men should not be tarred, feathered and set fire to.

In the old days when a wife got hold of one of these duds she had to tell her to mother or to some long-suffering husband to eat her bread of dependence. Today she goes out and finds a job that will support her and the family. This is a big stick in her hands and if she is not a wise woman she whisks her husband over the head with it so there is no more peace in the home. This would be bad enough if there were the two of them but when there are children it is even more tragic. If she is going to live with their father she should keep the peace with him.

No doubt the children take in the situation and are humiliated by it. But I contend that it is better to tell the mother to point to what good traits their father may have, teach them to love and respect him as best she can and save at least a semblance of normal home life for the little ones whose whole idea of life and love and marriage will be colored by what they see and hear and feel when they are young. No matter how hard she tries, she can't make a head of her husband whom she despises. (Every woman does to some extent despise a man that can't or won't produce). But she can keep her husband's head out of the dust and salvage something of his manhood for the family's benefit if she pretends to herself that she pretends to herself that he isn't a total ass out.

LIBERTY LEAGUE RAPS
NEW DEAL RELIEF PLAN

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(AP)—Charges of waste and politics were directed at the New Deal's relief program by the American Liberty League today.

The Liberty League's attack was aimed particularly at Roosevelt's request, now being considered by a house appropriations subcommittee, for $1,500,000 to continue WPA for another year after July 1.

Unjust congress should appropriate no money except for a program specifically authorized by congress.

HELD IN ACCIDENT.

CHICAGO, April 12.—(AP)—Willard Phillips, who gave his address as 2307 Chamberlain avenue, Chatsworth, Tenn., was held by police today following the death of Mrs. Grace Lundstrom, 49, who was injured last night when struck by an automobile police said was driven by Phillips. He will be held pending an inquest.

Anchor Kolstoker Efficient, Popular, Walker Declares

NEW HEATING UNIT WELL GUARANTEED

Plants, Properly Installed, Available for Every Size and Type Building.

The Anchor Kolstoker, introduced to Atlanta home and building owners by the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company, 141 Houston street, N. E., has met with unqualified approval, according to Charles N. Walker, head of that organization.

Mr. Walker, long experienced as a heating contractor, reports that the Anchor Kolstoker, installed and in operation, is the commendatory plaudits of the buyer in every instance, with the result that this modern and scientifically developed heating equipment has experienced a growing demand.

The Anchor Kolstoker, itself, he states, is guaranteed to be free from inherent defects in both material and workmanship. To back up this purchase, in addition to the turn guarantee, and further makes every effort to provide, proper installation.

In many instances, he asserts, the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company has been called to make repairs on automatically fired heating plants and regularly has found two common situations. Either the automatic heating device has been installed incorrectly (in some cases not properly sized for the plant), or the heating plant itself was in such a state of disrepair that the stoker could not properly function properly.

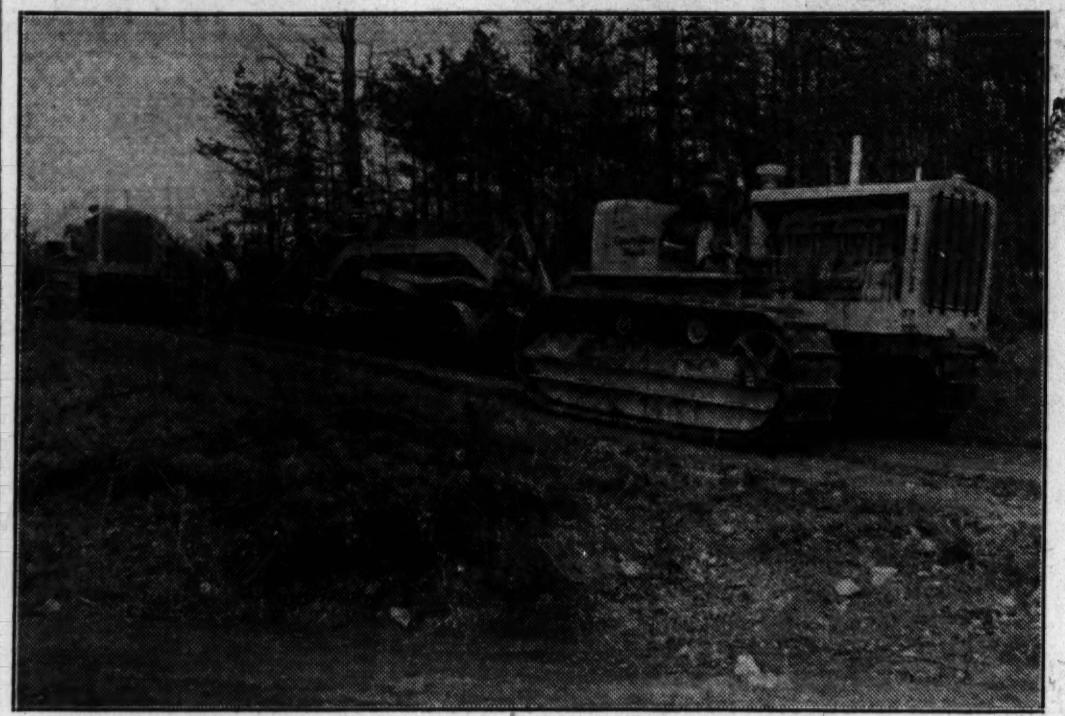

To avoid these faults at their inception, the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company personnel includes a factory-trained man, under whose personal supervision, the Walker organization's 27 years of continuous service in the heating and roofing fields has won for it many friends who recognize its high standards of workmanship.

The Anchor Kolstoker, Mr. Walker asserts, needs no high-pressure sales methods, but sells itself, due to its 15 outstanding points of excellence in its field. Early installations here, with the owner's permission, served as showrooms, with the result that the Kolstoker quickly won a widespread popularity.

This equipment, it is stated, is available in six sizes, each designed for a different size of structure: (1) for homes of up to 10 rooms; (2) for larger homes and apartments; and store buildings; (3) for medium-sized apartments, churches, schools, etc.; (4) for larger apartments, greenhouses and public buildings; (5) for hotels, apartments, theaters, laundries, dry cleaners, etc., and (6) for heating and high-pressure steam boilers using up to 150 tons of coal per year.

In the roofing field, the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company is among the leaders in the federal-approved

Cherokee County Becoming 'Dieselized' By Purchase of 'Caterpillar' Equipment

Goodloe Yancey, president of Yancey Brothers, Inc., has announced delivery of three "Caterpillar" RD-7 Diesel tractors and three No. 66 "Caterpillar" graders to Cherokee county for use in construction and maintenance of roads.

Cherokee county is now completely "Dieselized" with "Caterpillar" equipment for road maintenance and repair, declares Goodloe Yancey, president of Yancey Brothers, Inc., 634 Whitehall street. "We dealers for this world-famous line of tractors, road machinery and combines."

"After the purchase and use of a 'Caterpillar Diesel Auto Patrol,'" says Mr. Yancey, "the officials of Cherokee county learned that a tremendous amount could be saved on the cost of fuel. Consequently, they decided to replace all their gasoline tractors with Caterpillar Diesel tractors. The result is estimated Cherokee will save about $6,000 a year on fuel costs alone, now that it is building and maintaining its roads with this equipment. The purchase of this equipment makes Cherokee one of the best-equipment counties in the south for road work."

Judge J. H. Holcomb is the sole commissioner of Cherokee county, and Captain J. B. Haney is warden and road superintendent. Judge Holcomb has just been re-elected for another term, due his friends assert, to his efficient management of county affairs.

Cherokee is known as one of the most progressive counties in north Georgia, having a very complete system of well-graded roads that are excellently maintained. Located in the foothills of the Blue Ridge, it has an ideal climate, and is rich in minerals, including gold and copper. The country also is rich in historical lore, its name having been gained from the Cherokee Indians, many of whose important villages were located within its present boundaries. Ball Ground, one of its communities, derives its name from the favorite sport of the Aborigines, or (as some historians assert), was named to commemorate the famous game which was played between the Cherokee and the Creek Indians in order to settle a dispute over tribal boundary lines.

Canton, the county seat, has a park

of particular historical interest. It was the home of the famous Joseph E. Brown, Governor of Georgia during the stormy period from 1857 to 1865, and was presented to the city by the Governor for use as a public park.

Cherokee county is the home of R. T. Jones, grandfather of Mr. Dobbins' immortal "Bobby," and of his late wife, the former Miss Susie Walker Jones, also a member of a leading family of northwest Georgia family.

"This is a New England company," he declares, "a purely mutual and all of its profits are paid to its policyholders in the form of dividends each year. The company is one of the few in the country to increase its dividends for 1936. This action means lower net cost to old and new policyholders."

"At present the policyholders of this company, as well as insurance representatives of all companies, have recognized the National Life of Vermont as the outstanding leader in low cost protection."

Mr. Dobbins quotes Dunn's Insurance Report of February, 1936, which states: "The National Life of Vermont is one of the most highly respected, and that has given a better accounting than this one."

The National Life Insurance Company has been represented in Georgia for more than 40 years, and has paid millions of dollars to policyholders and beneficiaries in this state from life policies, matured endowments and annuities.

A telegram received from the company's home office Saturday revealed that its business increased in all departments during March—the seventeenth consecutive month showing a gain in business. March, it was disclosed, showed an increase of 15.1 per cent of the corresponding month of 1935.

"This fact," says Mr. Dobbins, "certainly indicates the depression is definitely behind us. Prospects for the Georgia department of this company are the best they have been for the past three years, and despite the fact this agency is on the up-grade. New connections are being made and production of life insurance and annuities is showing a substantial increase each month."

This connection, Mr. Dobbins states, one of the agency's most recent additions to its personnel is B. F. Fraser, for many years one of the most widely known insurance men in the city.

Grant, Budge, Mako, Reese in Exhibitions Here Tuesday

BITSY TO PLAY RED-HEAD STAR; ARRIVES TONIGHT

Netmen To Meet at Biltmore Courts Before Leaving for Pinehurst

By Jack Troy.

There's going to be plenty of reason for Atlanta suddenly to become tennis conscious Tuesday afternoon. For Bryan M. (Bity) Grant, Donald Budge, Gene Mako, Billy Reese and Russell Bobbitt will all be part of a great show at the old Biltmore tennis courts. Peachtree and Fourth streets.

Tennis has sort of had a back seat this spring because of the funny weather and so much baseball enthusiasm. The Crackers are going out of town tonight, however, and so there will not be any counter-attractions.

The Grant-Budge match will be a tennis natural for the Atlanta fans. They are chief rivals for a place on the Davis cup team which will go abroad.

Budge, the California red-head, and Grant, the Mighty Midget, are ranked right next to each other. Budge is second; Grant is third in the nation.

Chicago cities have bid for this match. Chicago is supposed to have had it indoors during the winter, but a hitch developed and it did not go on. Other cities wanted it, but Atlanta, appropriately enough, will have the match Tuesday afternoon.

Grant and Budge met only twice last season. They broke even. Budge defeated Grant at Newark and Grant turned the tables on him at Atlanta in the national singles at Forest Hills.

Budge lost only four matches last season. Fred Perry, Bunny Austin and Von Cramm were the only other players who beat him. Budge had a great year, as did Grant.

And so it's Grant and Budge on Atlanta's court this evening. He and Budge and Mako will arrive here tonight, having defeated Mexico in the Davis cup zone series completed yesterday. Grant won both of his singles matches. The Americans made a clean sweep.

Following the exhibitions here, the trio will go to Pinehurst, where they will engage in the annual North-South tournament. Most of the "big shots" of tennis will be entered.

The remainder of Tuesday's schedule will include a singles match between Mako, ranked No. 11, and Billy Reese, former Georgia Tech captain, ranked No. 22. And there will be a doubles match between Mako and Budge and Grant and Russell Bobbitt.

The first of these three outstanding tennis attractions will go on the No. 1 exhibition court at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The Atlanta Tennis Association is sponsoring the exhibition.

Arrangements were completed over long distance Saturday night by Malon Curtis, city champion and a member of the association.

Grant, Budge Win Final Matches.

HOUSTON, Texas, April 12.—(UP) United States tennis players made a clean sweep of their American zone Davis cup series with victory today when Donald Budge, of Oakland, Calif., and Grant, of Atlanta, Ga., won the last two singles matches.

Budge defeated Daniel Hernandez, 6-1, 6-1, 6-3. Grant ran into difficulties in his match with Ruddyan Reyes, but won, 6-4, 13-11, 6-2.

70 Netmen Enter Pinehurst Meet.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 12.—(AP) More than 70 netmen have been received tonight for the eighteenth annual north and south tennis tournament opening tomorrow and continuing through the week.

Official said members of the Davis cup team now in Texas would arrive by Tuesday.

Entries in the men's events include Wilmot Wilson, defending singles champion; Donald Budge, Gene Mako, John Van Ryn, Wilmot Hines, Henry Culley and Gilbert Hall. Most of the Davis cup players were given first-round byes.

The women's list includes Katherine Winthrop, Mrs. John Van Ryn, Virginia Rice Johnson and Eunice Dean.

Early round pairings include J. Gilberth Hall, New York; E. A. Muller, New York; Marcel Rainville, Montreal, vs. M. Gwyer, and Budge vs. Herbert Vail, of Pinehurst.

NEGRO TEAMS OPEN HERE TODAY

The Homestead Grays Baseball Club of Pittsburgh, Pa., will cross bats this afternoon with the Nashville Elite Giants at 3:30 o'clock.

This is the first game of the season and is bringing together two of the best negro ball clubs in the country. In the past season these two clubs finished first and second in the negro national league.

Most of the players on these clubs have been playing inter-branch baseball in Porto Rico and out on the coast. A large crowd is expected to see the double-header this afternoon. Special reservations have been made for the white people.

between us and the Cubs. We have pitching and punch to win."

Bill Terry, Giants—"It's a one-two-three proposition for us. I think this is the best team I ever had. I like our chances."

Phil Traynor, Pittsburgh—"I'm pleased with our spring showing. We are stronger in every way from last year."

Casey Stengel, Brooklyn—"I like the Cardinals' chances. I have one of the strongest pitching staffs in the business and am aiming for first division."

Charles Dresser, Cincinnati—"We are contenders for first division. We are better and more experienced than last year and confident we'll win more games."

Jimmy Wilson, Phillips—"The Phils should rise and be much farther up than last year."

Bill McKechnie, Boston Bees—"I do not see any chance of finishing in first division but I'm sure we will move out of last place."

Leaves Today on Tour

Jimmy Braddock, world's heavyweight champion, leaves Atlanta this morning for Fort Benning, Ga., where tonight he boxes an exhibition. It is the start of a final tour before opening training for his fight with Joe Louis in September. He saw the Crackers win yesterday.

Jim Braddock Wins Friends in Atlanta

Champion Leaves Today for Fort Benning
on Start of Tour.

By Ralph McGill.

Jimmy Braddock, the heavyweight champion of the world, leaves our town this morning for Fort Benning, where he boxes three rounds with his sparring partner, Jack McCarty.

He leaves the town with hundreds of new friends. The curious thing about this unaffected champion is that he wins as many friends as the champions who have had more of the stuff called personality—and they are friends who stick closer and longer.

He is to fight Joe Louis in September. He believes he can beat Joe Louis.

"Joe Louis hasn't had to call on any real experience," he said. "He won't have anything to go back to when he does."

HONEST, SINCERE.

He doesn't boast. He is honest and straightforward. The fact Jack Dempsey is continuing to work his hoot to find a contender for a title Louis hasn't won, Braddock still calls Dempsey his hero among the fighters of the years already gone.

He has been fighting 11 years. He is 29 years old and he has been down the road and up it again—something few men have done.

The story of that come-back thrilled thousands. Yesterday he visited the federal prison. He had offered to box there for the prisoners, but the program could not be arranged at this date. He was shown through the prison. Guards and officers shook hands with him and were amazed at his skill.

Lucille Young, of Washington, D. C., was the tournament to the smashing close last night by shafting the women's all-events world record with 1,169.

The only double title winner of the tournament, the Washington bowler also annexed the single championship.

Miss Young's 1,169 wiped out the record held by Miss Ida Simmons, of Norfolk, Va., No. 1 ranking woman bowler of the United States.

Ida Simmons and Mary Stapleton, of Norfolk, Va., accounted for the other record. They won the women's doubles with 784, beating by 20 pins the former mark held by Olivia Schmidt and Helen Randlett, of Richmond, Va.

to sign one last year to conform to boxing commission regulations in New York. Gould does the talking and the managing. He is perhaps the smartest fight manager in the game.

He plans to go into training for the May 1 fight. Meantime, he will open his second round of the spring, the first one having been as a referee at Fort Benning. The splendid officers and men of the troops there are for him all the way and he will have a big house tonight.

EIGHT-DAY TOUR. From there he goes to Aiken, S. C. From there he goes to Charleston for another exhibition. The present tour lasts eight days. He then returns to New York.

With him is Joe Gould. They were manager and fighter together for 10 years without a contract. They had

BREAK O' DAY

On the bench the conversation is, unless there is a crisis on, more or less desultory:

"Look at him. He's showing what he throws. . . . That shortstop is too far over. . . . He's taking too big a lead. . . . The guy hasn't got much. . . ."

Ball players always claim a pitcher who is going great guns, boiling the ball through there, hasn't got a thing. It's the pitcher they hit who has everything.

VETS ARE THE HEROES.

Buster Chatham. First in the hearts of his countrymen—and his city men, too, for that matter.

The Crackers' chunky little shortstop remains the most popular performer from the viewpoint of the fans.

And he can still gallop about out there and handle that shortstop position.

The veterans are coming through in great shape at the season's start.

Sheriff Dave Harris, in left field, is off to a great start. His fielding seems to have speeded up. His hitting will be as good as that of last season.

Alex Hooks, at first base, is something of an idol himself.

And Paul Richards, after his snap throw to second yesterday in the sixth inning to catch Bob Loane, the prospective bridgebather, rather established him as one of the heroes of 1936. He catches a very fancy ball game.

Peck Hamel carries a great deal of sentiment. They rather believe in the lead-off man.

The pitching hero has yet to emerge. Last season it was Harry Kelley. They came out to see him pitch. This year Bob Duran carries the most weight.

HUGHES, YATES PLAY TO TIE AT PIEDMONT

Former Continues To Hold 9-Stroke Advantage
in Golf Marathon.

By Roy White.

Julius Hughes continues to hold a nine-hole advantage over Charlie Taft in their 27-hole golf match, with only 77 holes to go.

The match was resumed Sunday afternoon at Piedmont park, where it first started last summer, and they finished all square in 27 holes. Sunday before a pair was crowded.

Hughes and Hill were one up at the start, but went one down at 14 as Yates and Hudson rallied. Hughes and Hill took the next three holes as Hughes won the match with a birdie at 17.

None of the scores were outstanding, due to high winds, but the long driving of Hill and the play around the greens of Hughes were particularly good.

Black Medalist In Dogwood Meet.

Charlie Black's 73 won medal honor in the qualifying round of the Capital City Club's dogwood golf tournament. The qualifying ended Sunday afternoon and match play will start today and one week will be given over to the final round.

Handicaps will apply in all of the matches.

Dogwood pairings:

BRITAIN'S ARMS PLANS
TO SPUR U. S. BUSINESSDirect Trade Gain and Profit From Diversion to War
Industry Seen.

(Copyright, 1936, by United Press.)
LONDON, April 12.—British military preparations today promised substantial profits to American business.

Experts investigating the field said
the $600,000,000 British rearmament
program would mean much to American industry, partly through direct
orders placed with the United States
and because diversion of British peacetime production to war purposes will create new American opportunities in other foreign markets.

British announcement of vast rearmament
program recently, the British government emphasized its desire to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary marketing of British produce. For the present not much interference is anticipated.

But as the country delves deeper
into the creation of an efficient war
machine British exports are expected to decline. Already there are signs that defense production is diverting British industry from the task of providing for domestic needs.

As British exports decline new markets for American products will be created.

British investigators have decided that Britain is likely to draw on foreign, including American, imports to meet defense requirements.

She may turn to the United States
for augmented supplies of oil, copper,
tin and other non-ferrous metals like aluminum. The United States also may be able to sell large quantities of automobile airplane parts and machinery in the British market.

Already one of the best known British

ish automobile firms is declining to make private, luxury passenger cars for a year. Other British companies are shifting their production to war
material, airplane engines and parts.

Britain's inability to become self-sufficient in foodstuffs suggests she will turn to foreign fields to supplement
her food reserves, possibly purchasing wheat and meat from the United States.
